What About that Public Library.

Some weeks ago a number of ladies of the Better Winnsboro Club became interested in a public library for Winnsboro and some steps were taken looking to the establishment of such an institution in Winnsboro. Mrs. K. R. McMaster took the matter up with the Carnegie Library department and obtained information as to what and how aid could be secured from that source but since that time the matter seems to have been dropped and we suspect the reason for this fall is that the ladies did not get the support in this undertaking from the business men of the town that they deserved or must have in order to establish a library here in Winnsboro. We have not heard any of them say that this was the case but we venture the assertion that if the business men of Winnsboro will give the support that they should that the ladies will do their part. And, may we ask, why this lack of support? It is certainly a deserving and important institution and one that should be established here. Our business men need to awake as to the importance of these things if we ever expect to have such a town as we should all like to see and have. We suggest now to the ladies that they visit each man in the town and get his ideas as to what he favors along this line and then they will have something tangible to work on. We must not let the matter drop where it is.

At the meeting Monday night some were inclined to criticize somebody for allowing the carnival gamblers to load and ship on Sunday. They should be allowed to get out on the first train always and with an injunction that we will not tolerate them again. If we cannot have an agricultural fair without the assistance of this class of people we had better suspend. The fair authorities thought that they were getting some innocent amusement for those who attended the fair but they were simply picked up and will be next time they undertake to secure amusement from this class of people. An amusement committee should be appointed before the next fair and let this committee arrange a schedule of amusements gotten up by home people and children. This can be done and nobody will be fleeced by gamblers.

We haven't heard a word from Mrs. Huges and daughter since they congratulated the old man on Tuesday night of last week and retired for the night. It is to be hoped that they are enjoying the sleep of blissful ignorance.

World's Tallest Women.

After taking measurement of the height of women in France, England and America, a doctor announces that the English woman is the tallest and the American comes next. The average height of the Frenchwoman is five feet one inch. The American woman is nearly two inches taller, and the women of Great Britain one-half inch taller than the latter. American women are heavier, their average weight being about 117 pounds.

Had Proved It.

At an evening party the hostess had coaxed a protesting guest to sing. After the song she went up to him smiling. "Oh, Mr. Jenkins," she said, "you must never tell me again that you can't sing—I know now!"

Vigilance Required.

"All things come to him who waits, you know," he said, yawning.
"Yes," replied his wife; "but they don't always break in and wake him up."—Boston Transcript.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing all my work." If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.
